

Literacy

Foundation Studies

Who is the course for?

The course is for people with learning difficulties and/or disabilities who want to improve their literacy skills.

What does the course aim to do?

The course enables you to develop the literacy skills that are needed for work and independence skills in everyday life. Tutors will give you the opportunity and support to identify what skills you need to work on and help you to make progress by achieving your targets

What will be covered?

You will cover reading and writing, speaking and listening to improve your everyday literacy.

What are the final qualifications?

You will receive a course certificate indicating the literacy skills you have achieved.

How will I be assessed?

You will set yourself literacy targets with the tutors and collect evidence to show that you have achieved those targets. Assessment is continuous throughout the course.

What facilities will be provided?

All facilities and materials will be provided.

Will I have to study at home?

No.

Are there any additional costs?

Occasional minimal costs may occur for some projects.

What course can I do next?

The College offers a range of courses in Foundation Studies part-time programme and these are advertised in the college Part-time directory. There are other Independent Living Skills courses and courses for Work Skills which aim to improve your numeracy or literacy. Investigating Recreation and Leisure courses are also offered to help you develop hobbies and interests.
